REPORTS

OF OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES 1945

The Executive Committee held a special meeting on February 24, 1946, at 4:30 P.M. in the Hall of Graduate Studies, Yale University, to consider the reports of officers and committees for 1945. Present were President E. Adelaide Hahn, presiding, and Mr. Franklin Edgerton as proxy for Mr. W. F. Twaddell, Mr. George L. Trager, Mr. Zellig Harris, Mr. Leonard Bloomfield as proxy for Mr. K. L. Pike, Mr. E. H. Sturtevant as proxy for Mr. J. S. Kenyon, and the Secretary; also by constitutional provision Miss Edith Clafin and Mr. E. H. Sehrt (these without vote); and Mr. Bernard Bloch by invitation. During the meeting Mr. Bloch served as proxy for Mr. Harris and Miss Clafin as proxy for Mr. Pike.

The Executive Committee received the following report of the auditors for 1944:

We have examined the Schedule of Assets and Liabilities and the Profit and Loss Statement submitted by the Treasurer of the Linguistic Society of America for the period December 20, 1943 to December 20, 1944, and consider, from a check of entries in the Ledger, that the Schedule and Statement are correct.

(Signed) Edward H. Sehrt
George L. Trager

It was voted to adopt the Treasurer's Report as published in Bulletin No. 18.

The Executive Committee received the minutes of the regional meetings in Chicago, Washington, and New York on December 28, 29, and 31, respectively, and ordered them recorded.

The Secretary, Mr. Cowan, presented the following report, which was ordered received and filed:

The membership statistics are as follows: Starting 1944 there were 560 members, apart from Honorary Members, of whom four died during the year (Edward C. Armstrong, Klara H. Collitz, Jean B. Johnson, Dave H. Morris); 18 presented their resignations effective at the end of 1944 (Caleb Bevans, Frederick M. Carey, Francis Carmody, Malcolm Coxe, N. W. DeWitt, Gabriel Engerrand, Rev. M. J. Franklin, Thomas A. Knott, Bernard Kotkin, Harry L. Levy, Mother Grace C. Dammann, Peter Mousolite, Luba Petrova, Pierre M. Purves, Jesse Lee Rose, Kenneth Scott, Charles R. Sleeth, Jean van Prag); 17 were dropped for non-payment of dues during 1943 and 1944. The net membership with which the Society started 1945 was therefore 521; the increase in membership for 1945 is 41 (40 new members, one former member reinstated). The total membership for 1945, apart from Honorary Members, is 562, a gain of 3 as compared with 1944. There were 20 names on the list of Honorary Members in 1944. We regretfully record the death of 3 members in 1945: Charles E. Little on September 11, W. A. Oldfather on May 27, Carlton C. Rice on July 19.

The domestic Library Subscriptions have increased from 142 to 163 by a gain of 21, and foreign subscriptions have increased from 30 to 31 by a gain of 3 and a loss of 2. The American Library Association purchased 45 subscriptions to LANGUAGE for 1945. These were stored by the Society and are being distributed at the direction of the Association's Committee on Libraries in War Areas since the cessation of hostilities. The exchange copies and copies for review are 11 domestic and 16 foreign at the end of 1945. There are 44 members in the Group for American Indian Linguistics.

As Treasurer, Mr. Cowan presented the following report:

(Signed) Edward H. Sehrt
George L. Trager

The Executive Committee voted to adopt the Treasurer's Report and ordered it recorded.

Report of the Secretary on behalf of the Executive Committee:

During the year the Executive Committee, acting by correspondence, ratified amendments to Articles 6, 8, and 10 of the constitution of the American Council of Learned Societies which had been adopted at the meeting of the Council on January 25, 1945; appointed an Administrative Committee of the Linguistic Institute consisting of Mr. C. C. Fries, director; Mr. E. H. Sturtevant, Mr. W. F. Twaddell, associate directors; and Mr. Hayward Keniston and Mr. Joseph Yamagiwa; appointed Mr. E. H. Sehrt and Mr. Taylor Starck to the Committee on the Collitz Bequest (E. H. Sturtevant, chairman, Franklin Edgerton, W. F. Twaddell) with Mr. Sehrt replacing Mr. Sturtevant as chairman; recommended that Hermann Almstedt be exempt from further payment of dues as provided by Article II, section 6 of the Constitution; voted, in view of the transportation and housing crisis, to hold regional meetings in Chicago on December 28, in Washington on December 29, and in New York on December 31; arranged for a mail ballot election of officers for 1946.

The Secretary, Mr. Cowan, reported that no additional nominations of officers for 1946 had been received as a result of the mail ballot, and that failing additional nominations, the ballots provided affirmative votes for the candidates nominated by the Nominating Committee. The Executive Committee ratified the vote by ballot of the membership of the Society. The elected officers for 1946 are:

President, E. Adelaide Hahn, Hunter College.

Vice-President, W. F. Twaddell, University of Wisconsin.

Secretary-Treasurer, J. M. Cowan, American Council of Learned Societies.

Executive Committee 1946-7,

Zellig Harris, University of Pennsylvania.

Kenneth L. Pike, Summer Institute of Linguistics.

Editor, Bernard Bloch, Yale University.

Committee on Publications 1946-8, M. B. Emeneau, University of California.

Nominating Committee 1946-8, Einar Haugen, University of Wisconsin.

The following actions were taken by the Executive Committee in the special meeting:

1. Elected to membership the members-elect received since the previous list published in LANGUAGE.

2. Reappointed Mr. W. F. Twaddell as Delegate to the American Council of Learned Societies serving through 1950.

3. Reappointed Mr. Hans Kurath to the Standing Committee on Research serving to February 1, 1949, as Chairman.

4. Appointed Mr. C. C. Fries as Director of the Linguistic Institute for 1946, with Mr. Hayward Keniston, Mr. A. H. Marckwardt, Mr. W. F. Twaddell, Mr. C. F. Voegelin as members of the Administrative Committee of the Linguistic Institute.

5. Approved the following Presidential appointments:

Mr. John Kepke as Delegate to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Mr. Edward H. Sehrt as Delegate to the American Documentation Institute.

Mr. Kenneth L. Pike as Delegate to the Mexican Council for Indigenous Languages.

Mr. J. M. Cowan as Councilor of the Inter-American Society for Anthropology and Geography.

Messrs. Edward H. Sehrt and George L. Trager as Auditors of the Society's accounts for 1944 and 1945.

6. Received a report from Mr. E. H. Sehrt, Chairman of the Committee on the Collitz Bequest and voted: (1) to appropriate $2,000 or such part as may be necessary to the Committee to be used as it sees fit to hasten the settlement of the Collitz Bequest; (2) that the proceeds from investment of the Society's share in the Collitz Bequest be used to found the Hermann and Klara H. Collitz Professorship in the Linguistic Institute in accordance with the terms of the will.

7. Voted to hold a summer meeting in conjunction with the Linguistic Institute at the University of Michigan if, in view of the national crisis, this should be feasible.

8. Voted to recommend to the Society that John S. Kenyon be exempt from further payment of dues as provided by Article II, section 6 of the Constitution.

9. Voted to place the Dues Fund for Foreign Scholars in the current funds of the Society subject to the consent of the donors.

10. Voted to allow the Treasurer to grant 30% discount on sales of the Society's publications to dealers on single orders amounting to $100 or more rather than the customary 20%.

11. Voted to name the Secretary-Treasurer as a permanent alternate delegate to the American Council of Learned Societies.

12. Received and ordered recorded the reports of officers and committees printed below.

Other matters were considered but did not call for formal action.

Mr. Bloch, Editor and Chairman of the Society's Committee on Publications, presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

During 1945 the Society issued the following publications:

LANGUAGE, Volume 21; [293 pages].

LANGUAGE MONOGRAPH No. 22: Index to the Franz Boas Collection of Materials for American Linguistics, by C. F. VOEGELIN and Z. S. HARRIS; 43 pages.

INDEX TO LANGUAGE XVI-XX (1940-1944), by S. N. TREVIÑO; 57 pages.

At the year's end, only the first two numbers of Language have been distributed (120 pages). The third number (to page 222) is ready for distribution, the fourth is still in galley proof. For this delay, the greatest we have ever suffered, there are two reasons. Our printers, the Waverly Press, have not yet wholly recovered from the extraordinary demands made on their facilities by Government agencies during the war, and from the disruption of their normal efficiency by the inroads of Selective Service. The Waverly Press is not alone in this predicament: many printers of technical journals are running behind schedule these days.

The other reason for the delay is more directly the concern of the Linguistic Society. Until recently, the Editor has nearly always had a stockpile of articles to draw on in assembling a number of LANGUAGE; but during the past year contributions have so sharply fallen off that once or twice the Editor was obliged to postpone the printer's deadline simply because he had nothing, or almost nothing, to send. The stockpile is exhausted; every issue now leaves the Editor's files empty.

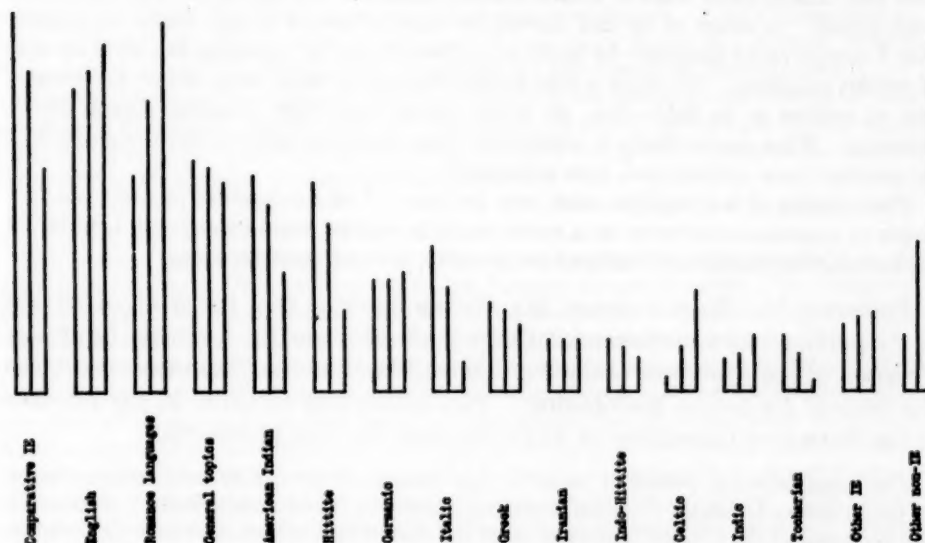

Even now, as this is written [December 1945], there is not enough material in the Editor's files to fill the first number of Volume 22. Copy for this number should have gone to the printer a month ago; it has not gone yet, and cannot go until there is enough to make up an issue.

The following statistics concerning the distribution of articles (not reviews) in the twenty-one volumes of LANGUAGE so far published may be of interest to members of the Linguistic Society. Figures for Volumes 1-15 (edited by G. M. Bolling) and for Volumes 16-21 are given separately; combined figures are shown at the right. Italic figures indicate percentage. The arithmetic is not guaranteed.

The following graph presents in a different form some of the statistics given in the table above. The articles printed in LANGUAGE are here classified under 16 heads. Each label is followed by three bars, whose length is proportionate to the percentage (not the actual number) of pages occupied in the journal by articles grouped under this head. Of the three bars in each set, the first refers to Volumes 1-15, the second to Volumes 1-21, the third to Volumes 16-21; the middle bar in each set is accordingly intermediate in length between the other two (except when all three are equal).

The headings are arranged, except for the last two, in a descending order according to the length of the middle bar. The label 'Germanic' excludes English; the label 'Italic' excludes the Romance languages. The heading 'Other IE' includes Messapic, Venetic, Slavic, Lithuanian, Albanian, and Armenian. The heading 'Other non-IE' includes all non-Indo-European (or non-Indo-Hittite) languages except the American Indian.

The final table shows how the distribution of topics in Volumes 1-15 compares with the distribution in Volumes 16-21. Articles are again classified under 16 heads, as in the graph above. Each label is followed by three numbers. The first is the percentage of pages occupied by articles on this topic in Volumes 1-15; the second is the percentage occupied by articles on the same topic in Volumes 16-21; the third is the difference between these percentages, always obtained by subtracting the first from the second. Accordingly, a positive number in the third column indicates an increase in the proportion of articles on a given topic; a negative number indicates a decrease.

	VOLS. 1-15	VOLS. 16-21	DIFFERENCE
Non-IE (except American Indian)	2.4	15.4	13.0
Romance languages	9.7	16.6	6.9
Celtic	0.8	4.5	3.7
English	13.6	15.5	1.9
Indic	1.4	2.5	1.1
Germanic (except English)	4.9	5.4	0.5
Other IE languages	2.9	3.4	0.5
Iranian	2.1	2.1	0.0
Indo-Hittite	2.2	1.6	-0.6
Greek	4.0	3.0	-1.0
General topics	10.4	9.2	-1.2
Tocharian	2.4	0.6	-1.8
American Indian	9.8	5.2	-4.6
Italic (except Romance)	6.6	1.2	-5.4
Hittite	9.4	3.6	-5.8
Comparative Indo-European	16.9	10.0	-6.9

What do these figures mean? The answer is important, not for its own sake but because it excludes a different answer, plausible but incorrect, which may suggest itself to some readers. The proportion of articles and pages in LANGUAGE devoted to any given topic, as well as any change in proportion revealed by comparing the last six volumes with the first fifteen, is not and could not be due to the personal choice of the Editor. I am sure that Bolling never tried to control the distribution of topics; I know that I have not tried myself. If either of us had wanted to exercise control of this kind—for reasons that I cannot easily imagine—he could have done so only by reducing the total number of articles published. To reject a contribution because it would raise unduly the proportion of articles in its field—this, no doubt, would have been possible, though surely pointless. What reader thinks it would have been equally possible to favor a given field by printing more articles than were submitted?

The meaning of our statistics must now be clear. THE PROPORTION OF ARTICLES AND PAGES IN LANGUAGE DEVOTED TO A GIVEN TOPIC IS DUE TO THE NUMBER AND LENGTH OF ACCEPTABLE CONTRIBUTIONS TREATING THE TOPIC, AND TO NOTHING ELSE.

Following Mr. Bloch's report, Mr. Cowan reported that the stock of certain of the publications undertaken jointly by the Society and the Intensive Language Program of the American Council of Learned Societies had been turned over to the Society for future distribution. This action was reported in the minutes of the Executive Committee of ACLS for June 16, 1944 as follows:

The Administrative Secretary reported that several of the earlier publications issued by the Intensive Language Program in collaboration with the Linguistic Society of America had recouped to the Council from sales their full cost of production, and he recommended that the remainders of the editions and the rights and interests of the Council in the publications be transferred to the Linguistic Society.

VOTED, To authorize the transfer to the Linguistic Society of America of all rights and interests of the Council in the following publications, together with such stocks of them as remain unsold on June 30, 1944: Outline Guide for the Practical Study of Foreign Languages, Bloomfield; Outline of Linguistic Analysis, Bloch and Trager; Melanesian Pidgin English: Grammar, Texts, Vocabulary, Hall; Melanesian Pidgin English Phrase Book, Hall; with the reservation, however, that the proceeds from any single sale of more than one hundred copies of Melanesian Pidgin English Phrase Book, Hall, shall accrue to the Council.

Mr. Cowan read the following report for the Chairman of the Standing Committee on Research, Mr. Hans Kurath:

Two manuscripts were considered by the Committee in the course of the year:

- (1) Roland G. Kent's The Forms of Latin, and
- (2) George M. Bolling's edition of the Iliad.

Both manuscripts have been recommended to the ACLS for financial assistance.

Mr. Cowan reported that the Committee on Aid to Publication of the ACLS had made a grant of $800 toward the publication of Kent's Forms of Latin, and that the University of Pennsylvania had guaranteed an additional $300 toward the publication of this work.

Mr. Sturtevant, Delegate to the American Council of Learned Societies, presented the following reports on the two previous meetings of the Council:

The annual meeting of the American Council of Learned Societies was held in Boston on January 25 and 26, 1945. The Linguistic Society of America was represented by both delegates, W. Freeman Twaddell and E. H. Sturtevant, and by its secretary, J. Milton Cowan.

At this meeting the American Folklore Society was admitted as one of the Constituent Societies of the Council.

The Constitution and By-laws were rather thoroughly revised. The Committee on Research and Teaching Personnel and the Committee on Grants in Aid of Research were combined under the title Committee on Fellowships and Grants. A new committee on Aid to Publication takes over the function of the Advisory Board as a Jury on Aids to Publication and also the duties of the Committee on Publication in the Fine Arts.

Another change in the organization is the increase in the powers of the Executive Committee; a change made necessary by the increase in the size of the Council during recent years (there are now 24 Constituent Societies), and the very great increase in the business transacted by the Council, particularly during the war.

(Signed) E. H. Sturtevant

The Annual Meeting of the American Council of Learned Societies was held at the Westchester Country Club in Rye, N. Y., on January 24 and 25, 1946. The Linguistic Society of America was represented by one of its delegates, E. H. Sturtevant, and the Secretary, J. Milton Cowan, who held a proxy for W. Freeman Twaddell.

An important and very interesting feature of the meeting was a report on the Intensive Language Program by Mortimer Graves and J. Milton Cowan. A very striking exhibition was given of the use of mechanical records in connection with the 'second level' handbooks. We were told that a considerable sum of money has accrued to the Council from the sale of teaching material to the Army, and that such income will be derived in the future from sale of the same or similar material to civilians through commercial publishers. The Council intends to devote such monies to the promotion of linguistic research. Although this was not mentioned in the meeting, it may be appropriate to say that the sum of $3,000 per year for three years has been allocated to the University of Michigan toward the support of sessions of the Linguistic Institute. A smaller sum is being contributed to Hunter College toward the support of a training course for teachers of foreign languages.

(Signed) E. H. Sturtevant

Following these reports, Mr. Cowan reported that an appropriation in the amount of $6,000 had been made from the Special Linguistics Research Fund of the Intensive Language Program of ACLS to be used toward completion of the field work of the Linguistic Atlas of the United States in the South Atlantic States. The appropriation is reported in the minutes of the Executive Committee of ACLS for December 13, 1945 as follows:

The Director reported on the progress of the Linguistic Atlas of the United States, and submitted estimates for the completion of the field work in the South Atlantic States during the next eighteen months. Mr. Cowan reported that a fellow of the Intensive Language Program, Mr. McDavid, had been allowed to devote two months of his tenure to field work for the Atlas in South Carolina, when it developed that the Intensive Language Program's project on which he had been working was impossible of completion at this time. The Director, with the approval of Mr. Graves and Mr. Cowan, recommended an appropriation of $6,000, chargeable to the Linguistics Research Fund, for the completion of the field work on the Atlantic Seaboard, pending the organization of the new Committee on the Language Program. It was agreed that an appropriation of $6,000 for this purpose, chargeable to the Linguistic Research Fund, should be included in the vote of appropriation.

Mr. Cowan presented the following report for the Director of the LINGUISTIC INSTITUTE, Mr. C. C. Fries:

THE LINGUISTIC INSTITUTE

REPORT OF 1945 SESSION AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

In spite of unusual difficulties in organizing the Linguistic Institute, with the Army taking some members of our staff at the last minute and the government and other agencies refusing to release temporarily others whom we desperately needed, and in spite of the limitations of housing, food, and travel which the war conditions of the past summer necessitated—in spite of all these adverse circumstances the 1945 session of the Linguistic Institute was highly successful in many ways. One cannot measure the most important results of such an Institute—the stimulation that comes from the informal discussions of a group of linguists living and working together for eight weeks. Even if there were practically no students in the ordinary sense these intangible results of clarification of thinking, of stimulation, of progress in mutual understanding would justify the holding of a Linguistic Institute for the sake of the staff alone.

In the 1945 session, however, there was a good group of students in attendance. In all, the total registrations in the courses of the Institute numbered 233 from 128 separate individuals. Of these 16 were guest Ph.D.'s and 5 received scholarships from the American Council of Learned Societies. Among those in attendance the largest single group consisted of teachers of foreign language attracted by the emphasis placed upon the discussions (supported by demonstration courses in Russian, German, and Spanish) of the contribution which linguistic science can make to a successful dealing with the practical problems of learning and teaching language. For these the chief interest centered in the course entitled "Contemporary Trends in the Teaching of Foreign Language", given by Professor Twaddell. Many of the luncheon conferences also dealt with these problems (average attendance 35; range 28 to 82). That these teachers were also attracted by the courses and lectures in linguistics is evidenced by the large registration in such courses as "Phonetics and Phonemics" (23 registrations) and the consistently satisfactory attendance upon the lectures of the "Introduction to Linguistic Science" (average attendance 37) and the lectures by visiting professors (attendance ranged from 40 to 285).

Although the chief emphasis of the 1945 session of the Linguistic Institute was put upon the practical matters of sound descriptive analyses as underlying satisfactory teaching materials and the implications of linguistics for teaching procedures, other aspects of linguistic science were not neglected. Professor Voegelin dealt with the descriptive approach to American Indian languages and an analysis of their structural types. All the work with actual informants was the center of much interest and Dr. Kenneth Pike's lecture demonstration using a speaker of Ibo as an informant attracted an audience of 285.

Indo-European comparative grammar and historical linguistics were represented by Professor Franklin Edgerton with courses in Sanskrit and Pali and with very active participation in the Tuesday and Thursday lectures and discussions.

No summer meeting of the Linguistic Society was held because of the restrictions upon travel necessitated by the military needs for the redeployment of troops.

The institute received a subsidy in the amount of $3,000 from the Special Linguistics Research Fund of the Intensive Language Program of the American Council of Learned Societies and $500 from the Society's current funds of the Linguistic Institute Endowment Fund. These funds were all applied to the salaries of visiting staff members. The staff of instructors consisted of the following:

Professor Franklin Edgerton, Yale University
 Mr. Gordon Fairbanks, Cornell University
 Professor C. C. Fries, University of Michigan
 Professor Robert A. Hall Jr., Brown University
 Professor Hans Kurath, Brown University
 Dr. Kenneth L. Pike, Summer Institute of Linguistics
 Professor Leon H. Strong, University of Michigan
 Professor W. F. Twaddell, University of Wisconsin

Professor C. F. Voegelin, Indiana University
Professor Norman L. Willey, University of Michigan

In addition to these there were native speakers of Spanish, German, Russian, and Turkish who assisted in instruction.

Following the report on the 1945 Linguistic Institute, Mr. Cowan reported that financial commitments had been made from the Special Linguistics Research Fund of the Intensive Language Program of the American Council of Learned Societies which assured the continuity of the Linguistic Institute for 1946, 1947 and 1948. This action is recorded in the minutes of the Executive Committee of the ACLS for December 13, 1945 as follows:

The Director reported that negotiations between the Committee on the Place of the Linguistic Institute of the Linguistic Society and the University of Michigan had resulted in an agreement by the University administration to furnish substantial support to the Linguistic Institute for a period of three years if the University's contribution could be supplemented by grants of $3,000 per year for three years. On the recommendation of the Linguistic Society's Committee on the Place of the Linguistic Institute, presented by Mr. Cowan and supported by the Director, it was agreed that the sum of $9,000 for this purpose should be included in the vote of appropriation and charged to the Linguistics Research Fund.
